FREEDOM OF CHOICE OSBORN PLATFORM

Issues Letter to Party as His Nomination Petition Is Filed.

SCORES "MURPHY & CO."

Says Attempt Is Made to Evade Principles of Primary Law.

tions designating him as a candidate in the primaries for the Democratic nomination for Governor, William Church Osbeen vectorday addressed a letter to the party in a serious crisis. It was only the fear of the primary, if they should outrage too far the patriotism of the copie that deterred Murphy & Co from commating Hearst. Sustain its spirit y making your choice free of organiza control. The question before you are we most likely to win with its or with Osborn." Make up your minds on that question and I shall perfections the direct primary law is a greatest gain in the State's political fear the primary law," he said because it interferes with despotic con-trol, and while pretending to respect the law seek to evade and defeat its purpuse by making 'recommendations' of res by law is now insidiously threat-You are asked to yield your or to the dictate of a conference elected by you, not elected by any-and controlled by the New York remination ever selfish and ever trolled it. Had not Murphy and his associates resuscitated Hearst in the Mayoralty election of 1917 he would not have plotted to secure the Gover-norship in 1918. "My attack as not on the ticket but the system that produced the ticket on the men who controlled it and now call on your party fealty to hat has for years kent live men out of democracy of the country was moving victoriously on Our organization is sterile as a sod-bound meadow; to be-come fruitful it must be broken up, given air and light. The work should itions which will sharply test our undern and patriotism."

Mr. Osbern said that, although he was the high man in the voting at the Spracuse conference, "Murphy and Co." tad decreed that he should be eliminated. He declined to be eliminated. "I stated before, during and after the Scence that as my position becomes un-derstood it will meet the approval of Democrats." The petitions filed in Albany for Mr. Shorn contained about 5.000 names.

There appeared to be quite a reactionary feeling around the ring at the opening. It was encouraged by early weather advices suggesting better prospects for a break in the Texas drought, while there was also scattered selling on the belief that the technical position of the market had been weakened on the recent advance. Offerings were readily absorbed on an early decline of some 10 to 20 points, however, and it seemed that a good many of the contracts were going into the hands of buyers for British and Countinental trade interests. This started novering by early sellers, and the market became more active later on, weather news indicating that the tropical storm was more likely to cause rains along the central and east Gulf coasts than to enter the droughty sections of Texas.

Wall Street interests were among the big buyers on the advance, supposedly to cover contracts sold before the publication of the Government's crop report of last week, and numerous stop orders.
